THE 2017 BEACH BODY ISSUE

It's steaming... and rightly so!

So summer is here. The pool at the VOLO house is warm enough (even in Norcal) to have wet & wild beauties in it almost every weekend... LOL (Want to be part of the action, follow us on @volomag to see the live streams) and I am proud to release one of the hottest and classiest issues ever of VOLO.

Photography in this issue is just par excellence, and the most important thing is that we have managed to keep the pictures incredibly hot, without making them pasty and monochromatic (read bland and over photoshopped) like some of our eminent peers in the industry.

We pride ourselves on keeping the raw authenticity of the model (the true essence of a woman) alive on our pages and I believe that my team has pulled that off perfectly in this issue.

APHRODITE

LILY shot by CHRISTOPHER MEREDITH

Aphrodite, the Greek goddess of love beauty and pleasure. was the inspiration for this shoot with Lily,
The shoot took place against the backdrop of a warm summer sunrise on a “desert island beach” near Sydney, Australia.

CHRISTOPHER MEREDITH

Christopher Meredith is a Volo accredited Sydney-based fine art photographer and digital artist with a passion for beauty and the natural environment.

His recent exhibitions include “H2O” (Underwater nudes), “Natural Curves” (digital art combining nudes with natural textures) and “Once Upon A Dream” (a fantasy series about the Mermaids of Balmoral Beach).

LILY

I am a traveling art-nude model from Europe, and this was my first shoot with Christopher Meredith. The beach location was at the end of a long rocky and steep path, so we met up very very early to get there in time for the midsummer sunrise. When we'd arrived, the deserted beach was so beautiful, the sand was warm, and the soft sound of the waves made it easy to work with Chris in a relaxing way.

I am an experienced model but have never worked with glitter before, and I was surprised at how it stuck to the skin and worked as a shiny new layer - adding a graining texture to the skin.

As we began to shoot, the sun rose, and it quickly became hot and humid which meant that my skin becomes glossy. It helped to make the shots seem even more rich and luxurious.

Once the shoot was over, I discovered it's much harder to remove the glitter than might be expected. It was only sprinkled onto my skin, but even a wash in the sea failed to remove it, so in the end, I traveled back from the shoot dressed only in a bikini and my new glittery skin. (I finally washed the glitter off in a public shower later that morning. I think the other people there are still chatting about the girl with glitter all over her skin!)

I have never thought of myself as a goddess like Aphrodite before, but now I've seen the shots, maybe I should change my views!

The ocean is the ultimate representation of both freedom and power and served as the perfect background to express Alexis's wild spirited life. It was our intent to capture the beauty and spirit of the human body within this wild and unconstrained environment

PERRY JULIEN

In his past life, Perry Julien was an alpine ski racer, mountaineer, surfer, and yogi. He also had a camera in his hands since age 4, a byproduct of having a father who was a professional photographer. A ski racing accident in 2006 created the opportunity for Julien to channel his energy and adventure lifestyle back into his photography.

Nationally known for his live music photography, Julien is equally passionate about capturing moments of real life in epic locations such as Hawaii, New York City, California, South America and India. As an artist he is drawn to the spontaneity and immediacy of the photographic image; his inspiration coming from the interaction between his subjects, the passion and energy they project and the surroundings he photographs in.

His work has been described as “photographs that tell a story, yet leave the viewer with unanswered questions and wanting to know more.”

Julien continues to travel extensively, seeking inspiration from places and subjects that blend the boundaries between reality and fantasy, allowing him to be both an observer and a participant in creating spontaneous and provocative images.

Her passion for art runs almost as deep as her love for the ocean. Model, Yogi, Acrobat, writer, computer nerd, and seasoned hyphenate of the visual arts, Alexis lives for uplifting experiences – no compromises made. Jumping fences, chasing sunsets, cracking coconuts and laughing loud are just a few of the things that make her smile. She draws her life force from paddling for small waves in the Maui waters, listening to the sound of the ocean against her board and breathing in the smell of the salt water mist; known in Hawaiian as “Ehu Kai” – another reason to smile.

EMILY BEARDMORE shot by HAMISH CROKER

(@FIONA_WILLARD)

HAMISH CROKER

Hamish Croker is a British-Australian second generation photographer & image-maker at the Gold Coast in Queensland. He is notable for his frequent use of the coastal life-style that is synonymous with where he lives and depicts the fun and dynamic aspects that the city is famous for in much of his work.

Much of his early life and childhood was spent in the Australian state of Victoria. Frequently the subject of photographs during holidays to one of his family's few holiday houses & as the son of a successful medical and scientific photographer he was exposed to photography at a very young age.

His love for fashion began shortly before his teens visiting family in the inner South-Eastern suburbs of Melbourne and spending days cycling, walking and tramping Chapel Street, Toorak Village, and High Street; famous for their fashion, boutiques & bridal stores.

From there he began reading copies of Vogue, ELLE & Harper's Bazaar. He attended some of the best schools in Australia including Geelong Grammar School where many of his family and notable people such as HRH Prince Charles have attended and where he learned a good appreciation of art on both an Australian and an International level.

Later in his teens, he began adding men's magazines such as GQ, Playboy and FHM to his regular reading list and before long he had started to amass a good eye for art, portraiture, fashion & men's interest.

After graduating from secondary school, Hamish began modeling and acting and then took to working in a local modeling & talent agency doing work in administration. Shortly after he moved into junior management, he was signed with Elite model management and walked the Lord Mayor's ball and Melbourne fashion week.

By his early 20's he had begun delving deeper into the history of fashion, portraiture, and art and by his mid 20's, he had amassed a good visual knowledge of fashion from its early photographic years in the 1930's editions of Vogue through to the early 21st century.

In 2013 he took to photography to 'put pen to paper' and since that time has endeavored to refine his works while keeping abreast of both current and classic trends.

GOLDEN G.I.R.L.

CLAIRE shot by CASSANDRA KEYES

This set took place at sunset on the beach in beautiful Bali, Indonesia. We wanted to create a look of effortless beauty and focus on Claire's amazing curves to match the curves of the coastline. One of the challenges with shooting on the beaches of Bali is that there is a particular and quite small window when the tide goes out to when it comes crashing in, so we had to time it perfectly to get the tide and the sunset to join forces to make some amazing photos.

Claire is an Australian model and epitomizes the truly laid back, natural “Aussie beach babe” ideal.

She was born in a small country mining town in Western Australia and spent her childhood moving around a lot. In her late teens, she came to find herself in the eclectic and artistic hub that is Fremantle where her creative career interests flourished.

Working as a makeup artist, she discovered the world of modeling. Although she loved being behind the camera, she found a real passion for being in front of it. Claire now spends equal time both modeling and behind the scenes on makeup, hair, and styling for fashion and glamor shoots.

Today, when she's not working or studying fashion design, Claire enjoys spending time in nature and takes any opportunity she can to go hiking or to the beach with her partner and two dogs. Although she leads an active lifestyle, she's an avid foodie and appreciates a good bottle of red.

This set was photographed in one of her favorite destinations, by a photographer that she's always admired, on the tropical island paradise that is Bali. And is a true reflection of her style.

CASSANDRA KEYES

"Hi, I'm an Australasian photographic artist and digital media producer currently based in Bali, Indonesia. I have a profound interest in the power of human sexuality and love to work with the feminine form as a medium to explore this. I have worked on both sides of the lens and use this experience as the touchstone for my fusion style of playful yet edgy glamor photography."

I have followed VOLO since the beginning as I love the edgy style it has pushed which is a welcome contrast to the constrictions of commercial photography. It's great to do commissioned pieces, but sometimes it's nice to put that all aside and concentrate on creating something special which is what I hope to do here."

Much love, Cassandra."
